

Bruno, Pacifica Local Crime Control Pleas in Vain

The Assembly Committee on Criminal Procedure Wednesday rejected a proposal to give cities and counties local control over enforcement of certain crimes.

The committee on a 6-3 vote, and at the request of an apparent frustrated author, Senator H. L. Richardson (R-Arcadia), said the doctrine of pre-emption already specifies those areas of crime control which the state has authority over and those areas which local governments have authority to regulate.

Richardson and a host of witnesses from California cities argued however that since the well-publicized Carol Lane case (involving prostitution in Los Angeles), cities and counties were confused as to what areas of crime control were under their jurisdiction.

Richardson, noting that most of the committee members were hostile toward his bill, said he saw no reason for continuing the hearing and asked for a role call vote.

Representatives from two San Mateo County cities in written testimony urged approval of the Richardson bill with Pacifica City Manager C. W. Masonheimer saying it was "increasingly difficult to deal with the problem because of the possibility of losing a test case of our ordinances."

"We have had a serious problem of abandoned or inoperative automobiles on private property," he said. "In some instances a single family residence might have one to five such automobiles."

"We adopted an ordinance providing for their removal but we had to back off several times because we were afraid to test the law," he said, noting however that permissive state legislation has been approved and the city was revising its local law.

Masonheimer said also that another problem involved loitering in shopping centers where customers are harassed.

"The city council had adopted an ordinance requiring these people to remove themselves from public-private property under pain of a misdemeanor violation. Here again, we are not desirous of testing the ordinance which reduces its effectiveness considerably."

"There are many areas of needed regulations," Masonheimer said, "which are now denied to local government because of court decisions that the field is pre-empted even though the Legislature may not have so stated."

San Bruno City Manager Gerard S. Vergeer said his city council felt that "the responsibility of enacting legislation to deal with purely local problems was the type legislation which did not belong in the state level and certainly the State Legislature has more to do than worry about a problem which should be taken care of on the local level."

'VERY UNUSUAL'

An Architect Reduces Fee

By WILL E. THOMAS

In a move described by Jefferson High School District Supt. Edward Morgan as "very unusual," the architect for the nearly $5-million Serramonte High School construction project has reduced his fee by some $12,335. Ground was broken at the Daly City site Monday.

Corwin Booth of Corwin Booth and Associates Architects, in contacting district trustees declared that his firm has reduced the construction phase fee on Serramonte by approximately 20 per cent, from 1.6 per cent to 1.3 per cent.

The reduction, Booth explained, is possible "because of the ease with which we were able to handle the project."

Booth praised the "tremendous cooperation" of Superintendent Morgan and Serramonte principal Louis Martin, as well as the "faculty, particularly during the programming phase," and the district office staff "when we were all under such tremendous pressure to get the project 'out for bids.'"

He also thanked trustees.

"We are now looking forward to a smooth construction period with apparently ample time to get the project out of the ground before the rains begin this fall," Booth added.

Superintendent Morgan thought the reduction to be "very unusual."

CORWIN BOOTH

He said Monday night he couldn't remember it happening before "in my 31 years (in education)."

The architect "should be commended," emphasized trustee Eljo Fontana, explaining, "We are very appreciative."

'Luxury Apartments'

Parcel Rezoning Denied in Bruno

San Bruno councilmen Monday overruled a planning commission recommendation for rezoning a parcel of land in the Portola Highlands subdivision for development as a "luxury apartment" complex.

By a 3-2 vote, councilmen voted against the application of Challenge Development Co. for rezoning of a site on Sneath Lane from "R-1" (single family residential) to "R-M" (multiple unit residential).

Developers had proposed to construct a 42-unit "self-contained" apartment complex on the site, and planning commissioners gave their approval of the project last month.

However, approximately 400 residents of the subdivision signed petitions opposing the commission's position in "spot zoning" the parcel for apartment development.

Homeowners expressed fears that automobile traffic generated by the apartment development would create congestion in the neighborhood, and also pointed out that they purchased their homes with the understanding that the residential zoning would remain in effect.

Voting against the rezoning were councilmen Neil Christal, George Corey and Mayor George Ingham. Councilmen Karney Barberian and Maurice Hamilton voted in favor of the project.

Trustee Urges Vandalism Letter

Raymond Milton, of the Jefferson High School District Board of Trustees and its immediate past president, has proposed that letters be sent to parents in the Westmoor High School area explaining the alarming rate of school window breakage and the costs involved.

Milton made the suggestion during a brief discussion of window and glass door breakage Monday night, when recent acts of vandalism with BB guns were discussed.

He thought it might be well to send notes to parents in the area, "alerting" them to the recent pellet activity that has

Meeting On Salaries Set

Trustees of the Jefferson High School District will hold a special session next Monday at 7:30 p.m. in their Westlake Shopping Center offices to receive recommendations on salaries.

District Supt. Edward Morgan urged the session after requesting a scheduled salary item on Monday night's agenda be tabled.

Morgan last week said he would disclose his recommendations this week if the state legislature adjourned and the district knew what state monies would be available.

However, he explained that he had not heard from the state.

A Sewer Use Tax On Coast

The Pacifica City Council last Wednesday adopted at its first reading an ordinance prescribing charges for the services and facilities of its sanitation and sewerage system, despite a standing room only crowd that made it clear to councilmen that it vigorously opposed the annual per-household sewer users' fee.

The vote by the council was 4-1, with Harland Minshew casting the negative ballot.

The council was conducting a hearing on a proposed ordinance that would set household and commercial sewer use charges ranging from $18 annually for residences and $120 for certain businesses.

Most of the citizens present at the long meeting appeared to vocally protest the fees plan.

The council chambers' capacity is 111 persons, and firemen stood outside to count and control the number that entered the room.

Several citizens remained outside during the discussion, while others apparently went home after being unable to get inside.

The council, upon recommendation of City Mgr. Bill Masonheimer proposed the ordinance as a means of establishing its "experience" of revenue prior to issuance of revenue bonds through which to finance sewerage treatment facility improvement and expansion.

The funds obtained from the proposed sewer users' tax would be kept in a special reserve for at least a year, Masonheimer said, as proof that the city is able to service revenue bonds annually.

The users' fee would provide some $200,000 a year, it was pointed out.

TAX ELECTION

Jefferson El. Asks Increase

By DON GRIERSON

Daly City, Colma and Broadmoor residents will vote Tuesday on the Jefferson Elementary School District's bid for a 50-cent increase in the district school tax ceiling.

The proposed increase, if approved, will raise the district tax rate from $3.59 to $4.09 for each $100 of assessed valuation ($3 for actual educational operations costs, the remainder for other state approved expenditures), and provide a maximum of $500,000 in additional school revenues annually.

District trustees and Supt. Frank Greenwood proposed the tax election several weeks ago as a "last resort" to meet rising educational expenses brought about by inflation and a shrinking state contribution to local education.

The tax hike is necessary to maintain the "status quo" in the district's educational programs, and is not proposed for the purpose of expanding or adding new programs, according to the superintendent.

The district currently ranks sixteenth among the county's 17 elementary districts in total expenditures per child, and salaries for JESD teachers are $300 below the county average.

The district's teachers have received the smallest pay increases in the county for the past two years, and their relationship (Please See Page 2, Column 5)

Jefferson To Build New Plant

The Jefferson Elementary School District expects to complete a new intermediate school near the St. Francis Boulevard and Southgate intersection by September of 1969, Superintendent Frank Greenwood announced Tuesday.

Greenwood, in telling plans to construct the school immediately, said the only decision left to be made — in Sacramento — is whether or not the facility will be built as a complete unit at one time or in two or more increments.

The 73,000 square foot facility "should be one of the most complete, modern and up-to-date junior high schools in California," Greenwood said.

He indicated construction could be started in October, since plans already have been drawn and the site previously graded.

Trustees of the district in 1967 discontinued work after site preparation when it became apparent that reduced development in the area would not provide sufficient numbers of students to build the school under the state school building program.

The decision to move ahead with the school — totally or by increments — "will enable us to relieve the overcrowded conditions at the Ben Franklin School and provide additional facilities for handicapped children at all other schools," Greenwood pointed out.

Tax Reform Campaign Is Launched

Jefferson Elementary School District officials and representatives from Daly City Homeowner groups this week launched a drive to bring about "major reform in the state tax structure."

After meeting with homeowners, district trustees adopted a resolution calling upon school officials and homeowners in Daly City, Colma and Broadmoor to circulate petitions to be presented to the State Legislature and the governor's office.

The petitions will urge legislators to "equalize the tax burden, correct inequities that exist within the tax structure of the state, relieve the local property owner of his awesome tax burden and close the loopholes which have enabled many to escape their fair proportion of the tax burden."

McCloskey Due in D.C.

Congressman Paul N. "Pete" McCloskey will hold a "Constituents' Day" Saturday, July 27, from 2 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., at the City Hall in Daly City.

No appointments will be necessary and the congressman invites all persons or groups in the North San Mateo County area to come to the city hall to talk to him about their problems or opinions on federal matters.

"This will be the ninth Constituents' Day" I have held in the district," McCloskey said, "and they are proving to be of extraordinary value in learning the feeling of the voters on pending legislation."

Ground-breaking marks the start this week of the nearly $5-million project, for which planning began in earnest in 1964 and was the subject of heated debate between the board and Westlake citizens whose youngsters will be bused to the school when it opens in late 1969. Westborough Square Shop Center Set

Work is under way on the new Westborough Square shopping center in South San Francisco, and the $3 million project is scheduled for completion early next year, developer Ted Connolly said this week.

Located at the intersection of Junipero Serra Boulevard and Westborough Boulevard, the new center will cover approximately 10 acres, and leases have already been negotiated with a number of the future tenants, Connolly said.

Businesses to be located in the new center include a Safeway Store, Walgreen Drugs, Denny's Restaurant, First Western Bank, Winchell Donuts and Martinizing Cleaners, according to the developer.

Agency Approves SSF Annexation

Members of the county's Local Agency commission approved the annexation of the new 108-unit Rotary Plaza for older people to South San Francisco last week and expressed the hope the entire unincorporated "island" of Country Club Park will eventually come into the city.

The new project is being sponsored by the Rotary Club of South San Francisco and the Carpenters' Union, and a representative of the retirement center emphasized "the urgency" of annexing to South San Francisco because as the project is delayed it becomes less feasible "and costs and rents must go up."

The center needs municipal services that can be provided only by South San Francisco. B. Sherman Coffman, LAF's executive officer, reported that the planning commission had recommended the annexation as the area is "an unincorporated pocket almost surrounded by South San Francisco."

He predicted future annexations in the Country Club Park area, and said this might be the time to bring the entire area into South San Francisco instead of taking it in "piecemeal."

According to Coffman, the country health and welfare department has reported that a few septic tanks in the area are creating problems.

City Manager Eugene Aiello of South San Francisco, noting that an annexation election of Country Club Park 13 years ago was defeated by one vote, said several attempts have been made to annex the entire area without success.

Suit Filed Over a Kiss

A San Bruno man who was arrested last October 14 for kissing his wife filed suit in Superior Court Monday for $1.6 million damages.

He is Denis W. LeVasseur, 44, of 1120 Vermont Way. Defendants are San Mateo County, Westwood City, Police Officer Harry Stangel and 10 "John Doe" officers.

According to the version of the case related in the lawsuit, LeVasseur and his wife, Rosanne, were on their way home from dinner in Redwood City at the time of the incident. It was 1 a.m. and Mrs. LeVasseur was driving on Veteran's Boulevard when her husband "leaned over and gave his wife a brief kiss on the right side of her face."

Mrs. LeVasseur, the suit states, "was not in any way disturbed or interfered with in the operation of the vehicle."

The complaint alleges that Stangel stopped the car, ordered LeVasseur out, handcuffed him and "threw" him into the police car without an explanation. At county jail, the suit states, "defendants violently threw plaintiff into a jail cell and kicked and hit him." LeVasseur claims he was injured.

He asks $500,000 general damages for "false arrest and imprisonment," and another $500,000 for "assault and battery." In addition, he asks $150,000 each from Stangel and three unnamed officers as punitive damages.

Police records show that Stangel saw the car weaving and turned on his red light and siren. Stangel said he saw LeVasseur kissing his wife "in the neck and chest area" and observed that it was interfering with her driving.

LeVasseur refused to sign a traffic citation, Stangel reported, necessitating the booking at county jail. LeVasseur was booked for drunkenness as well as interference with a driver.

The charge of drunkenness was subsequently dropped and a jury trial on the traffic violation was scheduled for January 22. LeVasseur failed to show up, however, and the judge ordered his $29 bail forfeited and marked the case closed.

S.F. Girl, 5, Dies After Colma Crash

A five year old San Francisco girl, June Johnson, died of head injuries suffered last Friday when a car driven by her mother crashed into a power pole on Junipero Serra Boulevard north of B Street in Colma.

The girl died early Saturday at Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City.

According to Highway Patrolmen, four other children and the mother were also injured in the crash.

Patrolmen reported that Mrs. Dorothy Mae Johnson, 31, a housewife, was northbound when her car swerved to the right, jumped a small curb and crashed head-on into the pole. Because of Mrs. Johnson's condition, they said they were unable to question her.

Hospitalized and reported as in fair condition this morning at the hospital were the four other children, Johnny Johnson, 8 months; Judy Lopez, 10; Janet Lopez, 8, and Eva Johnson, 3. All four, along with the mother, suffered extensive face and head lacerations and bruises.

over-all construction period will have been gained by the work already completed, Greenwood explained.

In addition to relieving conditions at Ben Franklin School in Colma, the new plant also will enable the 200 seventh grade youngsters that have been housed for the past two years at the Fernando Rivera School on Lake Merced Boulevard to be moved to facilities designed for that grade level, Greenwood declared.

In a news release statement, the chairman of the Jefferson Elementary Board of Trustees, Ed Tomasello, stated that completion of the new buildings and the selected attendance boundaries "would reduce," he hoped, "the necessity of extensive busing of students."

Tomasello declared that it is the district's "desire to have its schools serve the neighborhood in which they are located."

Individual Instruction At Camino

Individual instruction has provided the theme for several summer school programs at El Camino High School this year. This year's driver training program includes an Allstate Good Driver trainer which enables the student operator to reproduce, under controlled conditions, phenomena likely to occur in the actual performance of a car. Students operate the units just as they would a real car on the highway and react to driving conditions shown by full-color motion pictures. Bud Gols, director of the driver training, announced that over 325 students will receive the benefits of this program during the summer session.

In order to provide students with the necessary physical conditioning for athletic programs and general good health, the physical education department has continued its advanced course in body building. The class is open to all students interested in individualized instruction in physical fitness. It includes weight training, running, rope climbing, trampoline, obstacle courses and other exercises that prepare a student for the high school athletic programs and all around good health. Mr. Marvin Ashby, Mr. Gerald Linnell, and Mr. Owen Kashevaroff are the instructors of this very successful program.

The Summer Theatre Workshop class, under the direction of Mr. Lyle Crawford, has also planned an exciting program. The students will present "The Skin of Our Teeth," by Thornton Wilder, on August 7, at 8 p.m. in the El Camino High School Little Theatre. Students are involved with all aspects of theatre including set design, lighting, direction, and acting.

Burned Up Over Divorce

A Daly City man appeared Monday to be angry over receiving divorce papers.

His wife complained to Daly City police that her 47-year-old husband took all her clothes to the backyard, doused them with gasoline and set the works afire.

The woman explained that the incident occurred after divorce papers had been served on her husband that day.

A Head Start Dental Program

For the first time in the North County Head Start program, each of the 40 children enrolled in the summer session is receiving free dental examination, cleaning and fluoride application.

According to Mrs. Gertrude Madrosen, Head Start director, one of the dental clinics will be held at the M. Pauline Brown

School in Daly City Wednesday. The service is provided by the University of California Mobile Dental Clinic, a bus containing $60,000 worth of equipment and staffed by senior dental students supervised by Dr. Robert Wiess, UC Medical Center pedodontics instructor.

Mrs. Madrosen said the Head Start program, financed by the federal Office of Economic Opportunity, underwrites the cost of the service.

Youngsters found to be in need of dental repairs are referred to dentists in the area.

The dental program has been arranged by the local Economic Opportunity Commission, in co-operation with the San Mateo County Dental Society, and also is a component of three other summer Head Start programs in San Mateo County.

Mrs. Madrosen explained that "most of these children never have been to a dentist, except for emergency tooth extraction, and most of their parents, have similar histories of irregular dental care at best."

Ninety per cent of the children in the Head Start project are recruited from low-income or welfare-recipient families, it was pointed out.

"The goal of the program is to provide an experience which will enable these children to cope successfully with kindergarten," Mrs. Madrosen declared.

Relatively few learning experiences have been available to these children in the past and, she said, "this child-development program attempts to bridge the gap between those children and the middle-class children."

Parent involvement is a key component of the program, she noted.

"For example," Mrs. Madrosen asserted, "parents were urged to accompany their children for the examination in the dental trailer and Dr. Weiss spoke to the parents in small group conferences about dental hygiene, the nature of decay, toothbrushing and nutrition."

He also counsels parents individually.

Head Start health program co-ordinator is Mrs. Cherie M. Stephens and the program nurse, Mrs. June Finis.

Jefferson El Seeking Tax Rate Boost

tive pay position will sink to $800-$1000 below the county average unless a substantial raise is approved this year.

The board has proposed a five per cent increase, provided the necessary funds are available.

The proposed tax increase, if fully utilized, would provide an additional $60 per year per student in the district, and increase the annual expenditure per child from $660 to $720.

Voters are being asked to authorize the 50-cent increase, but if the district receives additional funds from "some now unforeseen source" a lesser increase could actually be levied, Greenwood said.

However, the superintendent said such a windfall at this point is "highly unlikely," and the increase will probably be fully utilized if approved.

"We waited as long as possible in the hope we would receive additional funds from the state," the superintendent said, "and that was the reason we did not place this tax election on the ballot for the June primaries."

Greenwood said the board decided to hold the special election next week, rather than wait for the November general elections, "because it would have been too late to institute the levy in time to help the budgetary situation for the current fiscal year."

If the election had been postponed to November, the district would have been forced to seek a 75-cent increase instead of 50 cents, the superintendent said, in order to meet a 1968-69 deficit.

The last tax election in the district setting the current $2.50 rate, was in 1958.

Delay in Westborough Expressway Foreseen

Construction of the Westborough Expressway extension through South San Francisco might be delayed "indefinitely" because of the city's refusal to approve plans for the road last week, Board of Supervisors Chairman James Fitzgerald said today.

Councilmen in South San Francisco have refused to approve the road plans because they do not reflect a pedestrian overpass at the intersection of Camaritas Drive and Orange Avenue.

The overpass was included in the original agreement on the road project, and Mayor Frank Bertucelli and other councilmen have taken a "no overpass, no road" position in the matter.

County officials had planned to advertise for bids on the project this week, "in order to have the work done before the winter rains," according to Fitzgerald.

However, city officials have stated they wish to study the plans for "30 to 60 days," and the delay will make it impossible to complete the project this year, according to the supervisor.

"And there is no way of determining what the situation will be like next year, whether or not we will have the funds for the project," Fitzgerald added.

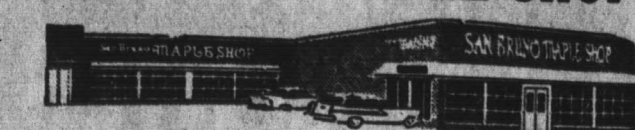

The overpass project ran into difficulties when California Golf

Club members, owners of the property adjacent to the proposed overpass site, demanded "severance damages."

Officials of the golf club maintain the proposed overpass ramp would interfere with use of their property, and limit their access to the new road.

The city has already purchased the road right-of-way from the golf club, and councilmen feel payment of the proposed "severance damages" would represent a double payment for use of the property.

FRANK LAPIERRE

(Post Columnist)

A Reader Writes

(Editor's Note — Frank LaPierre is on leave in Japan. The following correspondence received by the columnist relates to a June 19 "guest column" prepared by Ed Tomasello of the Jefferson Elementary School District Board of Trustees who urged passage of the July 30 JESD tax increase request. The statements and inquiries below are those of Tom Jeatran of 106 Avalon Drive, Daly City, and are published by The Post, in this space, at the request of Mr. LaPierre, allowing responsible opponents of the tax measure the same opportunity as proponents to make their views known.)

One of your guest columnists a few weeks ago, a member of the JESD Board of Trustees (Ed Tomasello), gave part of the story on the upcoming special tax increase election.

Many people to whom I have talked in the past month have serious doubts, and have expressed sincere concern, regarding the administration of our district schools, and the actual need for the proposed increase.

The basic question seems to boil down to something like, "Should we allow our elementary tax rate to become the highest in San Mateo County when we are unable to obtain an accounting of the money being collected now?"

One last point: was the expense of a special election just seven weeks after a regular election justified, or is this a manifestation of poor planning?

THOMAS JEATRAN
Daly City

(READER JEATRAN also made these observations:)

1. What was the sudden emergency that necessitated calling a special election? If this was not caused by an unforeseen situation, it certainly indicates poor planning by the JESD administration, the trustees, or both, to waste $5,000 to $6,000 on a special election (the amount is an estimate given me by one of the trustees).

2. Is it proper for the JESD administrator, Frank Greenwood, to threaten P-TA leaders with statements such as, "If you don't get out and work for this and get it passed, I'll discontinue the bus service?" (This statement was made to a group of P-TA leaders at a special meeting called by Mr. Greenwood.) Mr. Greenwood, at the same time, offered to open the schools records to the P-TA leaders, to give them the names, addresses, phone numbers, etc., of all the parents of JESD students. (The P-TA leaders at this particular meeting refused to allow their organization to be "used" in this manner, since the administrator declined to furnish even rough estimates of the total district budget, and a breakdown of expenditures.)

3. Several teachers in the district have said in confidence that they were told in very definite terms, after the P-TA refused to play politics, that they would contact the parents of each of their students, and get them to the polls to vote "Yes," for the tax rate increase.

4. According to information provided by the San Mateo County Tax Collector, passage of this increase will give the Jefferson Elementary School District the highest tax rate of any district in San Mateo County. (3.1147 per 100 dollars of assessed valuation) — And I defy the taxpayers of the district to find a copy of the JESD budget, so they will know where their dollars are really going — I've been trying for a long time without success.

5. The trustees are at best short-sighted when they blame the need for a tax increase on the state. ("Failure of the State to match educational funds on a 50-50 basis with the local district necessitates action now" — Thomas Noonan, Al Belotz, in the flier mailed to each parent by their children's teacher(s)) If this is so, why aren't all other districts increasing their rates? And, anyway, all tax dollars, federal, state, or local, come from us.

LORENE BEASLEY

(Better Business Bureau)

Insurance Offers

ONE OF THE MAJOR inquiries to the Better Business Bureau concerns insurance, particularly insurance offers received in the mail. That 25-cent premium for an insurance policy sold through advertising and other printed promotional material by mail to residents of other states may not always be the bargain it is supposed to be!

The Federal Trade Commission has recently completed an investigation of some 72 companies of the Mail Order Insurance Industry. It found that while some mail offers are legitimate, others should be closely investigated before signing any contract.

Many of the mail order companies are not subject to effective state regulations as they are not licensed in the state to which the mailings are sent. They do not maintain resident agents so the states are unable to effectively enforce any regulation they might wish to impose.

THESE COMPANIES are subject to FTC regulations only. Such complaints as improper claim settlement, unfair cancellation of policies after long periods of premium payments and alleged unfair premium increases are beyond the scope of the FTC as they deal only with private controversies. The individual with a complaint must contact his own state insurance commissioner.

One of the primary practices used which appears to be misleading and deceptive includes the offering of life insurance policies to the parents of servicemen with the implication that the insurance is being made available by the U.S. Government.

Families whose sons have recently entered the armed forces quite often receive an envelope bearing the name of an insurance company and the wording "Special Armed Forces Policy Enclosed."

Inside the envelope will be what appears to be a completed life insurance policy and a form letter which reads "your son has met the physical requirements of the armed forces and is eligible for special low-cost $10,000 Military Life Insurance policy for new recruits."

THE PARENTS who buy this insurance under the impression that such insurance has been endorsed or approved by the U.S. Government are merely buying additional insurance on their son's life at a substantially higher rate from a private commercial company which obtains the names of recently inducted servicemen from newspapers and other unofficial sources.

Also misleading is the use of such terms as "Medi-Care" on envelopes implying that the insurance policy is being offered or endorsed by U.S. Government.

Such offers are merely insurance offered by a commercial company to cover benefits in addition to those offered by a commercial company to cover benefits in addition to those offered by the government medicare program.

Copies of "Pitfalls to Watch Out For in Mail Order Policies" are available on request to the Federal Trade Commission, Washington, D.C. 20580.

Rod McKuen's Poems

SAN FRANCISCO'S ROD MCKUEN has written more than 700 songs. His material has been performed by Andy Williams, Danny Kaye, Eddy Arnold, Henry Mancini and the Kingston Trio. Phonograph records of his work have been produced by at least five major recording studios.

A second volume of his poems, "Stanyan Street and Other Sorrows," has gone through at least four printings. His poems speak of the artistic world of San Francisco.

They capture the very air of the city — the sunlight, the aromas, the fog.

They speak of lonely things — "The silent rain that falls, the sun behind the clouds, the starless nights, and the loneliness that parting brings."

"The waves that drum the shore at morning light, the friends that come no more to try to make things right.

The hopes that fly too soon as though on wings these are the lonely things."

Of Mr. McKuen's poems Glenn Yarborough wrote: "I can't imagine performing a concert without including Stanyan Street, and I can't imagine ever being without the little book."

POEM NUMBER FIVE in a section entitled Stanyan Street speaks of the San Francisco wreckers.

"There was a house on Stanyan Street that took a single day to wreck and that includes an hour spent at tin-pail lunch on sandwiches and beer."

"They carted off the lumber and sold it by the pound

The bricks at least, ten cents a piece now make a Marin Garden wall."

There is a note of the forlorn in the poems that record some typical San Francisco experiences.

"The girl upstairs is entertaining again, I could set my clock by the footfall on the stairs. I see her sometimes, coming and going on the stairs or going to the market. Sometimes I hear her late at night playing sad music or walking overhead. She smiles in the daytime, but not at me."

Stanyan Street and Other Sorrows is a picture of the City by the Bay that only a poet can paint. It contains more color than a painting, more perspective than a photograph, more depth than a song.

In a sense it is an autobiography of a man who knows its streets, has tasted its sorrows and has dreamed of escaping to Spain or some exotic place.

"The hill above is summer green the sky is foggy blue and children still march by each day at three o'clock foraging back from school. The hill and Kearny Street are still the same but I have changed."

Glenn Yarborough wrote of McKuen's poems. "For me they are not merely poems, they are an extension of a man who is able to put into words what so many of us feel and cannot say."

BARBARA

(Post Drama Critic)

Actress Abhors N.Y.

Mention New York to Broadway actress Nancy Walker, currently appearing in Palo Alto with the APA company, and she'd make a terrible face and the sound of a sick goose. Uggghh, was her exact words and she repeated the same during our interview last week prior to her performance in "Cocktail Party," Tuesday at Memorial Auditorium.

"Ellis Rabb, APA's founder-director, is trying to move me out of pure comedic roles. Anything that comes along that's right for me, is his idea. Before joining the company I'd done a national tour of 'Luv' and went directly in to 'The Cherry Orchard' with APA after that," she explained, smiling a half sarcastic, half statement-of-fact look.

To most Broadway theatre-goers, Nancy Walker means comedy, but she's delighted that someone (Rabb) is giving her a chance to do something else. And one feels she was somewhat rescued from "Luv" which she thoroughly deplored.

"I never started out to be funny in this business. It was a terrible shock. I wanted to be a singer. But my humor is dry, sarcastic, hid-it king of outlook and that's what I ended up playing."

She'd lived in California, Hollywood exactly during her 1943 to 1947 contract to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. She claims to have made three films for them, "all lousy."

"WHATEVER ELSE YOU have to say about repertory, it's psychologically restful because you don't have to be at the theater every night. As for ACT's program of daily classes, I think they're very important and sorry we don't have them here."

It is a big difference to work in repertory, maybe every other week, than having been in "Do Re Me" for one and a half years. And in a show she detested, she contends.

Asked if it was better than not working at all, she replied, "It was better than not getting paid but not better than not working."

MARRIED TO DAVID CRAIG, a man who teaches the art of auditioning for musicals and finding one's own image (primarily for actors who are petrified of singing), she admits to have never auditioned for a show.

"I couldn't possibly, I'm much too nervous."

"I hate New York. It's a cesspool. If it weren't for APA to go to, I'd never go outside the door. The New York theater used to be much more chummiest. Now actors have families and live out of the city. But here in Palo Alto we can't leave each other alone. Someone is always saying, let's go here or there together."

Will she become spoiled by APA when she's called to Broadway for another long run play?

"I won't get spoiled because it's really a vacation. After doing eight shows on Broadway, over that last 15 years, it's easy even if I am doing several different roles in one season. (She's also in an important role in 'The Show-off'). And yet there is less pressure here because you're not afraid of closing the next night."

S.S.F. Suit May Change Lame Duck Eviction Laws

Invalidation of a lame duck state law which permits private eviction proceedings to be done at public expense is sought in a lawsuit filed in Superior Court in Redwood City by the County Legal Aid Society.

The suit, filed by legal aid counsel Cecil L. McGriff on behalf of Mrs. Virginia L. Alden of South San Francisco, challenges the constitutionality of Section 1174 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

McGriff explained that before 1967 when a landlord got a court order evicting a tenant for non-payment of rent he was required to post a bond to cover costs. In July of last year the law was amended to eliminate the requirement. This year, however, the Legislature changed the law again, re-instituting the bond requirement.

The latest change, however, does not become effective until 60 days after the Legislature adjourns. McGriff's suit seeks to cover the situation by court decree in the meantime.

Although the suit names Sheriff Earl B. Whitmore as defendant, McGriff said he is "only the victim of poor legislation."

According to the lawsuit Mrs. Alden and her minor daughter were evicted by the sheriff from a flat at 115 Orange Avenue on July 10 for failure to pay $428 in rents. The eviction order was obtained by the landlord, Louis B. Aiello.

The suit states that deputies impounded Mrs. Alden's furniture and furnishings and her and her daughter's personal effects and clothing.

The complaint estimates that it cost from $150 to $200 to carry out the court order, that $40,000 has been spent in this way since the law was amended last year, and that another $25,000 in public costs will be incurred before the new change becomes effective.

The suit asks that the 1967 amendment be declared void and that the sheriff be enjoined from continuing to hold or sell Mrs. Alden's goods, and from enforcing writs of possession without first securing costs from the creditors.

The Legal Aid Society is supported by federal Office of Economic Opportunity funds and is dedicated to serving the poor.

Former County Jurist Is Sentenced To Prison

John J. Fahey, former North County municipal judge, who lives at 3148 Dublin Court, South San Francisco, was sentenced Friday to one year in federal prison by visiting U.S. District Judge William T. Beeks in U.S. District Court, San Francisco, for not filing his federal income tax returns for 1960-1961 and 1962.

Fahey is expected to appeal the case; a one week stay of execution was granted and he was released on his own recognizance.

Judge Beeks, who is visiting from Seattle, sentenced Fahey to three concurrent one-year terms.

Fahey had told the court he was too busy defending clients to file his tax returns.

Prominent for years in North County politics, he once ran for superior court judge, opposing Judge Louis B. Dematteis.

He had served as mayor of Daly City and as a municipal court judge on San Francisco. His political career came to an end in 1958; a candidate that year for election to the judgeship of the Northern Judicial District of San Mateo County.

A native of Pacifica and a long resident of the North County, he was admitted to practice before the California Bar in 1931 and the same year was appointed a deputy clerk of the U.S. District Court in San Francisco.

The criminal charges stated Fahey had income of $60,391 for the three years, on which civil taxes and penalties are $8,240.

Brunan Loses Faith In 'Best Friend'

A San Bruno man is having some doubts about the loyalty of his best friend today.

James Howlett, 2621 Medina, was injured in a freak accident Thursday when his dog bumped into the gear shift lever of his car, causing the vehicle to roll down an embankment and overturn upon the owner.

Howlett had pulled off Westborough Boulevard to wait for his wife, following in another vehicle, when a California Highway Patrolman stopped behind his car about 11:30 a.m., police said.

He got out of his car to tell the patrolman there was "nothing wrong," and as he talked to the officer his car began to roll down the embankment.

Howlett attempted to stop the vehicle officers said, but it rolled off the embankment and overturned, trapping his leg beneath.

He was taken to Mary's Help Hospital for treatment of a sprained ankle.

Picnic Set For South S.F.

Hot dogs, sodas, sno cones, and free beer and coffee will be available at the Mater Dolorosa parish picnic in South San Francisco. Swimming, baseball, tug-o-war and bingo will be some of the attractions, at this seventh annual picnic.

The picnic will be held on Sunday, July 28, at "Blackberry Farm." Tickets will be sold before and after all masses at the price of $1 for adults, 75 cents for children 6 to 12 and children under six will be admitted free. Or tickets may be purchased for those who live in Winston Manor thru Tom Sutter, 32 Elkwood Drive, Sunshine Gardens, Lew Moore, 387 Dolores Way and for those who live in Serra Highlands contact Joe Barros, 176 San Felipe Avenue.

'Family Album' Sermon Topic

"The Picture Album of God's Family," is the fourth message dealing with the significance of the sermon of The Christ of the Mountain of Matthew 5, 6 and 7, to be presented by Pastor Walter Stram at 11 a.m., Sunday, at the Peninsula Church of Christ (Christian), San Bruno, Angus Avenue at Masson.

Study groups for all ages are held on Sundays at 9:45 a.m. and 6:30 p.m., and groups for study and inspiration on Thursday nights at 7:30.

D.C. Officer Fights Man In Belmont

A Daly City police officer taking a ten-year-old stabbing suspect to Hillcrest Juvenile Home in Belmont wound up in an 85-mile an hour-plus chase into Belmont of a driver he said nearly ran him off the road as he neared his destination just before midnight last Wednesday.

Officer Dennis Cosgrove said he was tailgated and nearly run off the roadway by a car headed into Belmont and when he gave chase their speeds went over 85 down Ralston Avenue.

He said he followed the driver to 2609 Coronet Boulevard, where he attempted an arrest but was met by physical resistance and an attempt to get his Cosgrove's service revolver by the irate driver. After a struggle Cosgrove said he subdued the suspect and called Belmont police from a neighbor's home.

Sgt. Mike Troy and Officer Joe Pierucci got there to find the driver handcuffed. Arrested on suspicion of reckless driving and resisting arrest was Cecil Edward Reel, 59, 2609 Coronet, a blasting specialist, who was booked at county jail and later released on bail.

According to Cosgrove, Reel said he was hurrying home to take some required medication for his diabetes.

The ten-year-old boy finally was delivered to Hillcrest. He had been arrested on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon earlier last night after an altercation with another boy, also ten, in which the other boy suffered a right hand cut. He was treated at Mary's Help Hospital for a puncture wound and released.

Riewerts Named To Coast Unit

Lee Riewerts, a Pacifica meat market manager, has been named to head the city's "Congress for Community Progress" committee, chamber of commerce officials announced this week.

Riewerts is recruiting committee members representing "a cross section of the population," and hopes to enlist 40 to 50 volunteers in the community project by August 1.

Sponsored by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co., the project is being undertaken to "take inventory of the assets and liabilities" of the city's community life, and "hopefully to make some useful recommendations," Riewerts said.

The program will be conducted over a six-month period, beginning with an "orientation" meeting August 1 with PG&E officials and concluding with a day-long "congress" of community representatives and a series of panel discussions around the first of next year.

Riewerts and other committee members are preparing questionnaires to be distributed to residents as an aid in determining community needs.

He said a special effort is being made to recruit some of Pacifica's "newer residents" for the project.

"We feel it is time some of the citizens who have recently moved to the city had a part in community projects," he said.

CHAMBER SPEAKER

Loran Vanderlip of the California State Chamber of Commerce will be guest speaker at the South San Francisco Chamber general membership meeting today at noon at the International Inn.

He will speak on "The Sacramento Scene-Taxes Affect on Businessmen." A key representative of the State Chamber in legislative affairs.

Jaycee vice president and troop 269 institutional representative Lee Riewerts (left) said the tents are being donated to the scouts in recognition of their recent assistance in the Jaycee's Junior Champ Olympics and the Rodeo by the Sea. The troop was chartered in 1967 with seven members. Under guidance of the Jaycees and the leadership of Scoutmaster Tom Roundtree, the troop has grown to a membership of 27. THE WILLIAM POWERSSES (Moonyeen Webb) (Sirven Photo)

Newlyweds In So Cal

Sherman Oaks is the first home of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Powers Jr. (Moonyeen Webb) who were married at St. Andrew's Church in San Bruno. The Rev. John Collins performed the ceremony and a reception at the Woodlake Spa followed the service.

Moonyeen, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman A. Webb of San Bruno, wore a white peau de foie gown with lace appliques and a long train.

Mrs. John Morrice was the matron of honor for Moonyeen, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. John DeBey, Cathy Wolfe and Lupita Montoya. Mandy Lambert was the flower girl, and David Pitts carried the rings.

John Morrice was the best man for William, the son of Mrs. Ben Heller of Los Angeles, and W. F. Powers of Burbank. Guests were seated by Roy Webb, brother of the bride, Randy and John Powers, brothers of the benedict, and William Wilson, cousin of the benedict.

The couple honeymooned at Lake Tahoe and Las Vegas.

The new matron is a graduate of the University of California at Los Angeles and will teach fourth grade in Glendale. Her husband is a graduate of the University of California at Santa Barbara and now is attending Loyola Law School in Los Angeles. He is a member of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity.

Moose Degree Given To South City Treasurer

Mrs. Dorothy Boarding, treasurer of the South San Francisco chapter of Women of the Moose, was awarded the Academy of Friendship degree at the annual meeting in Fresno.

Also attending the session were Emily Spellman, chaplain, and Florence Cook, friendship chairman, former winners of the degree.

CARE OF MARBLE, PLASTICS AND LEATHER

Contrary to popular belief, marble should be given the same good care as wood furniture.

Use coasters under glasses; wipe up spilled liquids at once and protect marble from fruit juices, alcohol, carbonations and acids since they may etch the surface.

Wash marble surfaces frequently using lukewarm water and clean cloths. About twice yearly (or as needed) wash with a mild detergent to remove residue dirt. Scrub with a fiber brush, rinse and wipe dry with a soft dry cloth or chamois to prevent streaking and spotting.

To polish marble that has become dull, apply putty powder (tin oxide) available at hardware stores, with a dampened cloth, polishing as you go until marble is clean and surface shines.

In caring for laminated plastics (Formica, etc.), protect surface from hot things. Remember, these surfaces are heat and scratch RESISTANT and NOT heat and scratch PROOF. Do not cut foods on plastic table tops; use a cutting block.

On leather surfaces, it is only necessary to dust with a soft, clean, untreated cloth. If leather becomes dull, wax with a good, hard wax.

We can help you in many ways with all of your furniture problems.

DATEBOOK

GILDA HERBERT, who was one of Westmoor High School's outstanding graduates of 1968, will begin preparing for a career in teaching when she enrolls in San Francisco State college this fall.

The avid young researcher reports that she has always been fond of science and physical science courses in particular gave her the opportunity to be introduced to chemistry, physics, astrology and geology. As a result of that exposure she has elected to prepare for a career as a science instructor on the college level.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Herbert, Gilda attended Woodrow Wilson, Garden Village and Benjamin Franklin schools. She has four brothers, Timothy, 20; Thomas, 11; Michael, 10, and Joseph, 6.

In addition to her fine scholastic record at Westmoor, Gilda also left behind a fine reputation as a hard worker with a good school spirit.

She served as the treasurer of her junior class for one term and as secretary for the second half of that year.

She was an active participant in the science club and the vice president of the California Scholarship Federation. Gilda was one of the three students on the cafeteria committee which tried to help plan lunches which would be attractive to the students, she was head frosh-sophomore cheerleader in her sophomore year and, at the time of graduation, she was one of the varsity cheerleaders.

A READING ENTHUSIAST, who enjoys browsing through the bookstores in San Francisco, Gilda feels that the only hope for peace and harmony between generations lies in communication and compromise.

There is a lack of communication and understanding between people of different age groups. The parents of the children of the world feel that there is something wrong with the teen-agers of today. They feel that the children are asking for too much and are demanding too many liberties.

"Also, the teen-agers feel that the older generation does not understand them. Actually, at times the members of the younger generation think that the adults of today are not even attempting to understand them and their philosophy. This feeling the students of today have drives them to many of their unpopular activities. Therefore, I feel since they lack understanding they are motivated to do more radical and unusual things.

"I feel that all that can be done about the problem is to have open discussion between the adults and the younger generation. There must be compromises and attempts for understanding on both sides," Gilda said.

'Compromise, Understand'

"The reason students are turning to the use of drugs, draft card burning, rioting and the hippie philosophy are numerous. For instance, some younger people just do these things for a sense of adventure or freedom. They don't want to be controlled or guided by a helping hand. Also, I feel that some students take drugs to escape from reality. At times, they do not want to face up to problems or life in general.

"Rioting, hippie philosophy and draft card burning are acts to convey to the public their feelings of the situation in their country. For example, I think the hippies are against the Vietnam war and are fed up with all the killing and hatred going on in the world. Therefore, they believe in love and only love. Rioting and draft card burning are one way to express their dislike for our present situation in world affairs and of the conditions in our own country. By doing deeds which attract attention, the students feel they can get their thoughts and feelings across to the public," she said in summarizing the situation.

A PERSON WHO DOES NOT feel that high school graduates should postpone taking a part in the life of their community, should actively participate in everything from political campaigns to fund raising for charities, she said.

"High school graduates participate in many of the local campaigns for raising funds and for electing people to government offices. They are contributing to many of the community's activities. I feel that more and more graduates will become interested and contribute more to the public in general," Gilda said.

NELL NORTON

(Sugar 'n Spice)

'No Recipe, But ...'

Good morning, good cooks.

While checking through my recipe files a few weeks ago I came across a recipe someone had sent me that had only the ingredients and the notation, "No directions for baking but sounds goody." I found this statement pretty intriguing. I baked the cake and the result was delicious. It does taste very "bitterscotchy," though the only flavoring ingredient is the cold coffee. I recommend it to you, good cooks.

BITTERSCOTCH CAKE

- 1 1/2 cups shortening
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 2 eggs
- 3/4 cup cold coffee
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 1/4 cup flour
- 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon soda

Cream together the one-half cup shortening and one and one-half cups sugar. Add the two eggs and beat well. Sift together the one and three-fourths cup flour, one-fourth teaspoon salt, two and one-half teaspoons baking powder and one-fourth teaspoon soda. Add the sifted dry ingredients to the creamed mixture alternately with the three-fourths cup cold coffee. Beating after each addition. Pour into a well greased and lightly floured 9x9-inch baking pan. Bake in 350-degree oven about 45 minutes or until the top springs back when lightly pressed with your finger. Cool and frost.

FROSTING

- 1/4 cup butter
- 1 1/2 cups sifted confectioners sugar
- 2 tablespoons cream
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla

In a small mixing bowl cream the one-fourth cup butter, add the one and one-half cups sifted confectioners sugar, the two tablespoons cream and one-half teaspoon vanilla. Continue beating until mixture is nice and fluffy. Spread over cooled cake.

If you are as fortunate as I am and have a young lady in your home who likes to bake, let her try this very easy and tasty cookie recipe.

QUICKIE COOKIES

- 1 package instant vanilla pudding
- 1 cup biscuit mix
- 1/4 cup oil
- 1 egg

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. In a mixing bowl combine the one package instant pudding, one cup biscuit mix, one-fourth cup oil, one egg and mix well. (Add a bit of milk if needed). Fold in the one-fourth cup chocolate bits. Roll into small balls, about the size of small walnuts. Place on ungreased baking sheet and press down with a fork. Bake about 12 to 15 minutes. Makes around 2 1/2 doz.

While we are thinking about baking cookies I'll pass along this recipe for bar cookies. Mrs. Phyllis Checchini who lives at 1943 - 44th Ave. in San Francisco, is the contributor of this gem.

COCONUT BARS

- 1/4 cup brown sugar
- 1/4 cup shortening
- 1 cup sifted flour
- 2 eggs
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/4 cup dark corn syrup
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup coconut
- 1 cup nuts, coarsely cut
- 2 tsp. flour

From grim experience I warn you to place a larger pan under the pie to catch any drippings as it bakes, for it has a tendency to bubble over.

1 teaspoon baking powder

1/2 teaspoon salt

Blend the one-half cup each brown sugar and shortening. Work in the one cup sifted flour. Pat into the bottom of a 9x9x2-inch pan. Bake in 350-degree oven for 10 minutes.

In a medium mixing bowl combine the two eggs, one-half cup each brown sugar and dark corn syrup, one teaspoon vanilla, one cup coconut, one cup nuts and mix well. Lastly combine the two tablespoons flour, one teaspoon baking powder and one-half teaspoon salt and blend into the coconut-nut mixture. Spread over the baked bottom layer and bake in 350-degree oven for 25 minutes. Cool slightly and cut into bars.

I had really started out to write a variety column, but somehow baking desserts and cookies has taken control of my thoughts so let's just continue along this line.

The markets are full of beautiful fruits these days. The peaches are especially inviting, and the price is pleasantly low. So why not surprise your lord and master with a fresh peach pie?

To make a delicious pie two things are vital. A tasty filling and a flaky crust. I'll start off this pie with a fool-proof crust.

PIE CRUST

- 2 cups flour
 - two-thirds cup shortening
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 4 to 5 tablespoons cold water
- Sift the two cups flour and the one teaspoon salt into a bowl. Cut in the two-thirds cup shortening. Sprinkle with the 4 to 5 tablespoons cold water, stirring with a fork as you sprinkle in the water. Place on waxed paper. Knead 3 times. Press into a ball. Let stand at room temperature about 15 minutes. Roll out.

PEACH FILLING

- 1/2 cup sugar
 - 1/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
 - 5 cups sliced fresh peaches
 - 3 tablespoons cornstarch
 - 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
 - 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 - 1 tablespoon butter
- Combine the one-half cup sugar and one-fourth cup brown sugar and pour over the 5 cups sliced peaches. Cover and let stand about one hour. Drain, reserving juice.

In a small saucepan combine the three tablespoons cornstarch, one-fourth teaspoon each nutmeg and cinnamon and the one-eighth teaspoon salt. Gradually add the reserved peach juice, blending until smooth. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until thick and clear. Remove from heat.

Add the one tablespoon lemon juice and the sliced peaches. Turn into unbaked pie shell and dot with the one tablespoon butter.

Cover with remaining dough and cut vents to allow the steam to escape as the pie bakes. Sprinkle lightly with sugar. Bake in 450-degree oven for 10 minutes, then lower heat to 350 and bake for 30 to 35 minutes longer.

From grim experience I warn you to place a larger pan under the pie to catch any drippings as it bakes, for it has a tendency to bubble over.

Joan Cresalia is Wed

Joan Maria Cresalia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Cresalia of Westlake, was married recently at Our Lady of Mercy Church in Daly City to Ensign William M. Karr, U.S. Naval Air Force.

The ceremony was conducted by the bride's cousin, the Rev. Harry V. Carlin, and was followed by a reception in the Pavilion Room of the Fairmont Hotel.

The bride wore an A-line dress of white organza appliqued with lace and seed pearls and styled with a high neckline and long sleeves and long train. A seed pearl trimmed headpiece caught her short veil.

Attending the bride were Paula Epps and Maureen Dugan and Marie and Anne Karr, sisters of the bridegroom. They wore gowns of white eyelet over yellow taffeta.

Michael Karr, brother of the bridegroom, was home on leave from his Air Force duties in Denver to serve as best man. Ushers were Martin Cresalia of Westlake, Joan's brother, Jack Lovell, and Warren Burnoff of Sacramento.

The bride was graduated last month from the University of California at Davis where she studied French. Her bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Karr of Arcadia.

The couple is living in Glynn, Ga., until the end of September and will be stationed in San Diego.

Sacramento Is First Home For the Anthony Doonans

Joining the ranks of new-lweds are Teresa Faone Hafner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vern C. Hafner of Homewood, and Anthony John Doonan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Doonan of Daly City.

The couple was married at Our Lady of Mercy Church in Daly City and received felicitations at Forest Lodge. They honeymooned in Carmel.

Teresa wore a floor-length white lace gown with belled sleeves over a peau de soie sheath. Her tiered veil was also floor length.

Tamara Hafner, the maid of honor, wore an A-line creation of yellow peau de soie under yellow dotted Swiss. Tracy Hafner and Mary Beth Doonan, the bridesmaids, wore blue-green peau de soie under white dotted Swiss, and Wendy Hafner and Debby Doonan, the flower girls, wore frocked in short creations of yellow peau de soie with white eyelet pin-flores.

Daniel Doonan was best man, and ushers were Edward Doonan and Steven Alonzo.

The new matron was graduated from Tahoe Sierra School at Lake Tahoe and spent three semesters at Sacramento State College before enrolling at Healds Business College in Sacramento.

The bridegroom was graduated from St. Ignace High School in San Francisco and received his BA in sociology this year from Sacramento State College.

New Volunteer Unit Plans First Benefit

A luncheon bridge tournament at the San Francisco Hilton Hotel will be the first fund-raising event of the volunteers of the Research and Rehabilitation Program for Deaf and Aphasic Children.

The September 4 event will be a Chicago-style tournament with prizes including four trips to Hawaii via United Air Lines, a $500 gift certificate at Samuels Jewelers and four round trips to Las Vegas. For reservations, contact Mrs. Philip Karp, 25 Redwood Drive, Hillsborough, or Mrs. Murray H. Freedman, 20 Fairmont Drive, Daly City, before September 2.

Mrs. Karp is general chairman of the tournament. She contacted the San Francisco Hearing and Speech Center and arranged to put on the fund-raising event with Lew Mathe as tournament director out of the gratitude for the help the center has given her son, Kenny, 7. He was stricken with a virus when he was 9 months old and, as a result, lost his hearing. He was treated at the center.

She will be assisted by the following board members of the center: Mrs. Gerald E. McConney and Mrs. Albert C. Wollenberg, Dr. Rayford C. Reddell and Robert L. Morris. Other volunteers will include Mesdames Joseph Karp, Harry Minkin, Herbert Leavitt, George Fleck and R. L. Arianni.

Daly City Teens

The Telstars Teen Club in Daly City held a fun day at Montara Beach.

There was more food than could be eaten and lots of fun for all who participated.

The party got underway with an exploring hike along the beach and the rocks by the seashore. Then there was a softball game with the boys edging the girls, 5-3.

It was a first come, first served dinner as everyone gathered around the fire and roasted hot dogs.

Chef Nancy Kaye helped everyone get mustard and relish. Then came a game of Spud and then Dodge Ball that lasted until the sun had set.

Engagement Announced At Graduation Celebration

A graduation party for Katherine Anne King was the occasion for her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Goldberg of San Bruno, to announce that she is the bride-elect of Dennis Allen Henson.

Katherine was just graduated from Capuchino High School and will attend the College of San Mateo in the fall. A member of the San Bruno 4-H Club, she also is the sister of Cynthia, Robin, Teresa, Robert and Edward King.

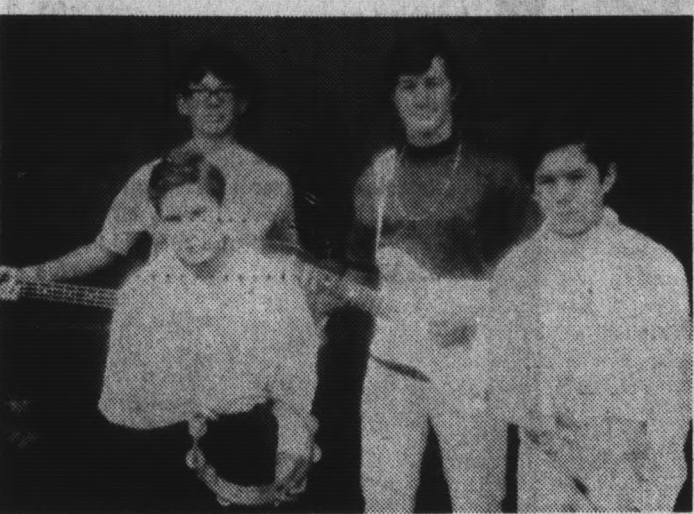

Her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Alea of San Bruno, now is serving in the Air Force at McClelland AFB near Sacramento. Also a Capuchino graduate, Dennis is the brother of Ronn and Michael Henson, Mrs. Paul Trapp and Vickie Olson.

Further wedding plans are incomplete.

They brought with them their customs and traditions to hold this celebration once a year to publicly thank the Good Lord for all favors received during the year. The famous Portuguese meal of soups, linguica, tramuse, fava, and massa will be served and sold during this event.

When the parade returns to the hall, a barbecue will be served by San Mateo's Portuguese Cook Tony Branco who will be assisted by South San Francisco's Portuguese

Cook John Castro. These men will serve the famous "soups" assisted by all the members of the San Mateo Branch of the Santo Christo Society, along with members of the S.S.F. Branch.

TERRA NOVA TOPICS...

By Alice Reichert

THIS COLUMN LAST week told about a potentially valuable project that was planned to take place in some classes of the Jefferson summer school session: Encounter groups.

The plan for scheduling the groups was as follows:

"Two group leaders and four members of the Mission Rebels will come to each class... on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Classes will then break into groups of 15 compromised of those students desiring to take part in the groups. If some do not wish to participate, they will remain in a regular class situation with the teacher."

The purpose of the program was to "allow young people to confront and explore their feelings, prejudices and misunderstandings about each other and to give them direct personal experience with some of the serious social problems existing in his country."

THE ENCOUNTERS are aimed at interaction on the feeling level as a means of replacing indirect impressions with human understanding.

So what happened to Jeff's encounter groups?

Ralph Galloway, principal during the summer session, cancelled them for several reasons: Among them, lack of time, and because proper procedures were not taken in planning the program. Galloway was not informed about the plans to have the Mission Rebels program. Neither was the Board of Trustees nor the superintendent. Without permission to be on campus, the group had no right to be here. Galloway was also asked for 8 hours a week of school time for the sessions.

HOPING TO FIND OUT more about the program (as it never was really launched) we contacted the Mission Rebels, since the program was essentially affiliated with their attempts on it. After several contacts, we knew little more than before, nor did the Rebels. We were switched from one person to another, but no one seemed to know anything about any such program at Jeff.

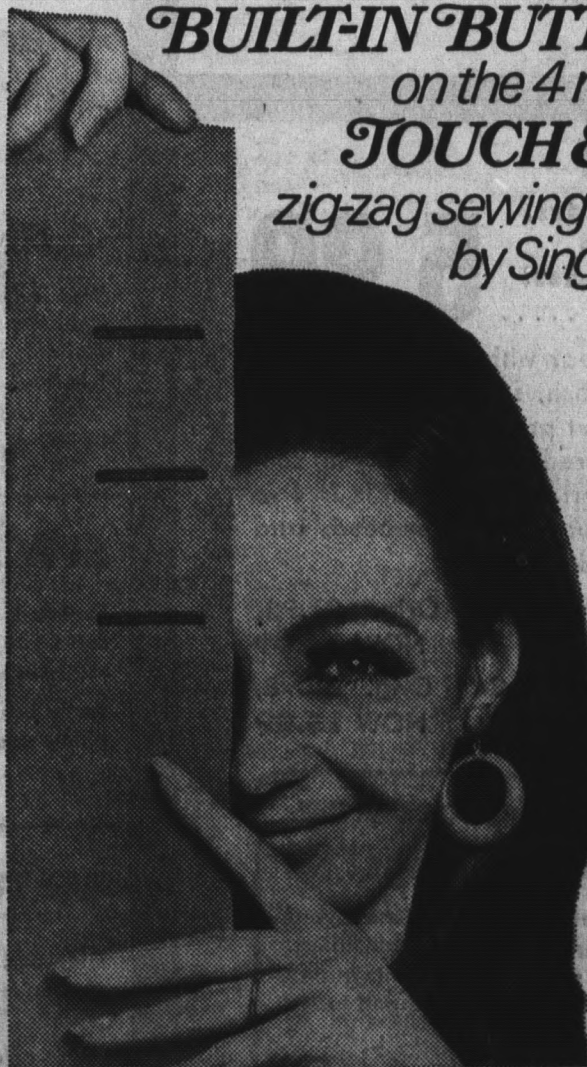

Dr. S. Harrison, who was listed as one of the two group leaders, was no more help than the Rebels. He knew of the program, but next to nothing about what was actually going on.

GARY GRAHAM, who took charge of the discussions, is not a member of the Rebels, or one of the group leaders. He made no claim to heading the program, but he made no claims to anything else for that matter. His entire interview consisted of his very evasive comments.

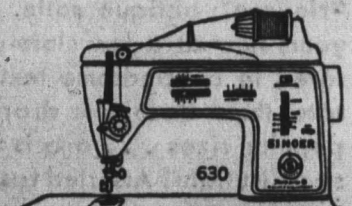

For a potentially good program, whoever is directing it is either very modest, or incompetent. How can we hope to develop such a situation of human relations if no one seems to want anything to do with it? (By the way, whoever is behind it is putting up a strong fight for continuing it again!)

The Age of the Frisbee! Daly City Plans Contest

What is a Frisbee? Although it closely resembles a flying saucer, the Frisbee is really a colorful plastic disc which is aeronautically designed to achieve spectacular flight patterns. It has become one of the most popular flying toys on the market.

A barrage of the plastic platters will cover each of the city playgrounds as youngsters practice for the 1968 Junior Frisbee Contest. Under the direction of the Daly City Recreation Department, contest will be conducted on each site between August 5-8. Ribbons will be awarded to each first, second, and third place winner. That's not all!!! The champion from each playground will participate in the City-Wide Toss Off to be held on August 12 at the War Memorial Community Center.

The contests are open to both boys and girls who are over eight years of age. Included in the competition will be events of distance and accuracy in which boys and girls will compete against each other.

The three youngsters who display the greatest skill at the Toss Off will be awarded trophies, and the Daly City Junior Frisbee Champion will have the opportunity to compete in the state contest to be held later this summer.

The Daly City Department is one of 300 recreation departments throughout the country which is taking part in this unique program under the official sanction of the International Frisbee Association.

Grab your Frisbee and head for the playground. All recreation leaders have additional information and will handle the entries.

Hungry Children Are Main Concern

Hungry children coming to the special summer school programs for the poor without breakfast are one of the main concerns of workers in the program, Arthur Silen, a summer intern project coordinator for the county's Economic Opportunity Commission, reported to commission members last week.

Silen, who has been evaluating summer projects about the county which college aged youths from poverty areas are hired to teach and supervise younger children, said one of the worst areas is Pacifica, which has "approximately 3,000 people of very marginal income. They had just enough to move out of Hunters Point when they moved to Pacifica," he reported.

According to Silen, the Coastside's worst area is in some 400 homes, "most very dilapidated," clustered around Westview school in Pacifica.

"There is no food in some houses," he declared, flatly. Commissioner Robert L. Obrey, a representative of the county superintendent of schools, citing a recent television program on "Hunger in the U.S.," asserted, "If this is true here, we should investigate it."

Commissioner Antonio Montoya, representative from South San Francisco, said the possibility of putting some of the program funds "towards milk and cookies" had been discussed in his city.

Fishing Gear Stolen at Bruno

Theft of $100 worth of fishing equipment from his home at 3830 Colby Way, San Bruno, was reported to San Bruno police Sunday by Daniel Mahoney.

Enter apparently was gained through an unlocked garage door, police said. Taken were fishing poles, tackle and a tackle box.

Three programs were started in the county on July 1 and two additional ones on July 8, Silen reported.

"I am not very impressed with the Pacifica program," Silen reported. "The leaders just stand around, and there does not seem to be a sense of community."

In contrast, he had high praise for most other programs. "In South San Francisco my reaction was very favorable. They are teaching youngsters history, reading and American history. Five girls are re-cataloguing books in the South San Francisco library.

"In Daly City everything is squared away."

"In Redwood City, trained personnel from San Jose State College are teaching English, but the kids are coming to school hungry. We are trying to remedy this."

Silen had special praise for the YMCA program at Flood Park near Menlo Park and Atherton, where he said "some kids are learning self-discipline in group situations for the first time."

Daly City Vocal Class

Janet Holden, local voice coach, is now conducting a musical theory class each second and fourth Tuesday of every month at the War Memorial Community Center in Daly City from 5 to 10 p.m.

She holds an honors and first-class degree from the Associate London College of Music, and her instructional talents include piano, voice, harmony, and musical theory. Several of Janet's advanced students have made public appearances in the Bay Area, and Janet appears regularly as the accompanist for the Daly City Community Chorus. The current theory class is open to all interested persons regardless of musical talent. The class will include instruction in the areas of sight reading, rhythm, harmony, and intermediate theory. As an added attraction, special coaching will be given in speech and public presentation.

DENTAL HEALTH FACTS

Brush After Meals

Brushing after meals not only helps to remove food particles from which decay acids are formed, but also helps to remove the bacteria that are responsible for producing the acid. So get in the habit of brushing after every meal.

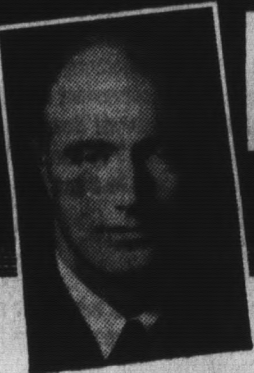

Brush Thoroughly

Even if you brush after every meal, success in preventing decay won't be achieved unless you brush thoroughly. Use a good toothbrush that is in good condition.

Please ask your dentist about proper brushing of teeth.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth, as dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

Bruno Bus Service Is Ordered by PUC

Greyhound Lines, Inc., has been ordered to institute commuter operations between Mount Junction and Ygnacio Valley Junction and its San Francisco terminal. The action made operational a decision by PUC made April 18, 1967. That decision was stayed pending affirmation by the California Supreme Court on March 29, 1968. The PUC order said that Greyhound "shall establish peak-hour commute service" from the route designated between Mount Junction and Ygnacio Valley Junction and its San Francisco (Transbay) Terminal. The decision also applied to the bus company's Skyline Boulevard route, but does not become effective until such time as adequate turnouts are constructed at the junctions of Skyline Boulevard and San Bruno Avenue, Sneath Lane, College Drive, Sharp Park Road, and Manor Drive. The area is currently affected by construction of the Junipero Serra Freeway. Bus service would become effective 30 days after Greyhound is informed by PUC that turnouts have been constructed.

Cantor Conducts Temple Rites

Sabbath services at Congregation B'nai Israel are conducted each Friday at 8:30 p.m. and Saturday morning at 10 a.m. by Cantor Henry Greenberg. Services on Friday will honor those Sunday School students celebrating their birthdays during July. Those to be called to the pulpit for a blessing are Kenneth Frucht, Eduardo Heckscher, Janet Levy, Alan Mordokowicz, Nancy Mutnick, Michele Rose, Susan Rose and Steven Ross. The children will be honored at the Oneg Shabbat (social hour) following the service.

Jeff Pay Boosts Delayed

Jefferson Elementary School District trustees postponed a decision on new salary levels for classified employees Tuesday "until after the tax election" July 30. "The election outcome will largely determine our budgeting for salary increases and other expenditures," Supt. Frank Greenwood said, "and it would be pointless to attempt a decision in this matter before the election." The district personnel commission has recommended a 5 per cent pay increase and additional benefits for the classified employees. However, if the tax election is successful, teachers in the district are expected to seek a free dental insurance program and other benefits, and the classified personnel "will expect a similar contract," according to district spokesmen. In other business Tuesday, the board appointed nine persons representing "a cross-section of the community" to the SCOPE Advisory Council.

The appointments were made to comply with federal regulations, and represent "all segments of the community." Named to the council were Mrs. Floyd Billington, Mrs. Al Parodi, Mrs. Remo Cuniberti, Mrs. Barbara Levin, Mrs. James Lipson, Mrs. Lino Talavera, Mrs. Emmett Galvin, Robert Xavier, Sister Carol from Our Lady of Perpetual Help School, and principals of the district schools involved in SCOPE projects. The district will receive approximately $82,000 in SCOPE funds this year, according to the superintendent.

County Deals New Rebuff To Broadmoor TV Plan

County supervisors refused again last week to act on the application of Western TV Cable Company for a franchise in Broadmoor. Chairman James V. Fitzgerald said Daly City officials asked for the delay because they want a single company to service both Daly City and the unincorporated Broadmoor area, which is surrounded on three sides by the city. The franchise holder in Daly City is California Cable Communications Company but the city has filed suit to break the contract. Fitzgerald said city officials asked that the Western application be held up until the other matter is settled. Paul F. Kelly, lawyer for Western, complained that it could be years before the lawsuit is settled. He predicted that the franchise "is going to die pretty hard." The board, however, acceded to Daly City's request and continued the matter to 2 p.m., August 6. County Manager E. R. Stallings and District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson were asked to determine in the meantime what are the chances of getting the Daly City problem settled.

Daly City VFW Post Seeking Members

The S-Sgt. Larry S. Pierce Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9213, Daly City, post Commander Robert Burton stated is seeking overseas veterans who served in the armed forces during time of war.

grams of benefit to the veteran or widows and children of veterans is through increased membership," Burton said. The Veterans of Foreign Wars, the oldest of the service organizations, was founded in 1899 to help disabled, needy and less fortunate comrades.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars is a national non-partisan, non-sectarian and non-profit organization composed exclusively of men who have seen "foreign service" in the United States armed forces, and is chartered by an Act of Congress of the United States.

The S-Sgt. Larry S. Pierce V.F.W. post is named in honor of S-Sgt. Pierce, who was killed in action in Vietnam. Sgt. Pierce was the first enlisted man to be awarded the nation's highest honor, Congressional Medal of Honor in Vietnam.

Sgt. Pierce threw himself on a grenade to save his men while on patrol. Post 9213 was the first post in the United States to have elected as commander a Vietnam veteran, Maj. Charles Gordon, who is now serving his third tour in Vietnam.

first and third Wednesday of each month at the Broadmoor Community Center Building, located at 87th and Washington Streets. The members of Post 9213 welcome all overseas veterans. For further information contact Burton at 2 Randall Court, Colm.

Diane Poehleman, general chairman, has announced the following committee chairmen: Gerry Klotz, dessert and refreshments; Melyn Dilbeck, primary children's art; Lydia Gemmet, junior children's art; Irene Manski, high school art; Barbara Schori, adult art, and Betty Toft, publicity.

Art projects are being planned in which each age group can participate and exercise their creative inspirations. There will also be some art work for sale. Members and friends of the church are cordially invited.

Jefferson Reading Aid

A concentrated effort to improve the reading of disadvantaged youngsters in the Jefferson High School District will be made through a federally funded program next year. Trustees of the district Monday approved the project, which will be financed with $46,000 in non-matching monies from the federal government, assistant superintendent Dr. Harold Toni said.

Vocal Group Elects Staff

The Misty Hills (Pacific) Chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc. recently installed a new board of officers for the fiscal year 1968-1969.

The swearing-in of new officers was performed by Sweet Adelines' Region No. 12's Regent, Ina Dow, at an installation dinner held at the New Southern Restaurant.

The new board marks the beginning of the second year for Misty Hills Chapter. The organization's first year of success provides a great challenge for the new officers.

Jan Jernigan, president; Jan Scovill, vice president; Bernice Olson, corresponding secretary; Joyce Richmond, recording secretary; Elaine Rice, treasurer.

The all-female barbershop style chorus meet every Thursday evening to sing four-part harmony, under the direction of Wayne Mansfield, at the Fairmont Recreation Center in Pacifica. Guests are welcome. The chapter will represent Pacifica at the San Mateo County Fair on Pacifica Day, August 8, from 6:30 p.m. to 7 p.m.

... "an Important message to Daly City Taxpayers ...

Your Elementary School Board of Trustees, in a frantic effort to raise funds for administration costs, has set a Special Election for July 30.

Taxpayers are told to "Take It or Leave It." Curtailment of services is threatened if this tax increase measure is not passed.

Daly City property owners are already burdened with a heavy tax load. New and higher real property assessments will add to this already burdensome tax!

"Take It or Leave It" is not the way to present an issue that affects 25,000 (?) elementary school district property owners.

With more revenues expected through increased assessments, even school officials are not sure whether the additional tax is necessary. If more taxes are needed to run the District's schools, the taxpayers are entitled to a thorough explanation of the financial needs—and more time to consider alternatives.

WE SUPPORT OUR SCHOOLS, BUT REJECT the BLANK CHECK APPROACH TO SCHOOL FINANCING

- If you disapprove of this arbitrary attitude
- If you are fed up with property tax increases
- If you want more time to consider this important tax measure

GO TO THE POLLS ON JULY 30 and EXPRESS YOUR OPINION

VOTE NO ON SCHOOL TAX INCREASE

(This message sponsored by the Daly City Taxpayers Committee for Fiscal Responsibility. Philip J. Fraher, Chairman)

Daly City Recreation

Panorama School

By BOB VERDUCCI

It was tournament day at Panorama School in Daly City. The participants consisted of two age groups, those 14 years and over and those 13 years and under. Over 30 boys and girls tested their skills in ping-pong and carroms. After two strenuous hours, Mike Egipicazo and Dave Gnilo, in the 14 and over age group, moved into the finals of the ping-pong championship.

The first game, a real thriller, went to the wire as Dave Gnilo finally edged out Mike. However, Mike came through in the clutch to sweep two games and win the championship. In the younger age group, Frank Navarro and Steve Steele advanced to the finals and eagerly awaited the championship. It came too soon for Frank, as Steve illustrated his ability in expert style to win two straight games and the championship.

In the other half of the tournament, Pat Sullivan and George Gnilo, 14 years and over, demonstrated their skills in carrom to advance to the finals. Although both games were close, Pat edged out each in the younger age bracket. Joe Jaleh and John Navarro beat all other contestants and had the honor of playing for the championship. John won the first game and Joe the second.

The tension mounted as the third and final game began. Little John, was the underdog and everyone was rooting for him to pull an upset. John gave it a valiant try, but Joe wasn't going to be deprived of the championship — it was his.

Westlake School

By LYDIA MERLO

On July 12, Westlake School was the site of a bicycle rodeo. This event consisted of many different races, such as relay, cross country, slalom, and a slow race to see who could cross the finish line last.

Winners in the relay were: Slalom — Benny Aragona, John Perry and Mylene Schwimmer; Cross Country — Benny Aragona, Doug Clapper, and John Perry; In the girls' relay — Amy Schwimmer won; Doug Clapper was winner of the boys' basketball throw and Doreen Steinburg won the girls' slow race.

Ronald Quiroz won the boys' slow race and Doug Clapper once again took honors with the longest wheelie. Renee Wilson was the fastest in the girls' speed race.

Amy and Mylene Schwimmer combined forces to produce the best decorated bike. All these winners were awarded certificates of merit.

Vista Mar

By JON LARSON

The spotlight of activity at Vista Mar School playground featured a recent checkers tournament under the direction of Jon Larson, Recreation Leader. Top honors were taken by Lisa Demilio with Debbie Grady taking second and Peter Zias finishing third.

Roger and Robin Homer have been very busy playing kickball, with Roger kicking three home runs in one game. The Vista Mar baseball team is seeing a lot of action in practice and league play. With some hard work and luck, the Marvells have a good chance of capturing the title. The Marvells practice every Monday from 2-4 p.m. at Vista Mar.

Colma School

By ROY REITZ

Marchbanks

By MIKE CHELONE and T. J. DELBEX

Providing the weather is as nice as it has been the last few weeks, Marchbanks Park will be the place to bring your pets on Friday. Many of the children in the area are as excited as the Recreation Leaders. The pets will range from petting dogs to a variety of wild birds. In future weeks we will be holding a Miss Marchbanks Contest.

Vista Grande

By PEG DAVENPORT

This week the children at Vista Grande Playground are looking forward to a bike day to be held on July 26.

Ball tag seems to have become the main event here with Hughy Lovelace, David Munro, Lynn Derrick and Michael Kuodo all playing their hardest. Newcomers are usually a temporary target but they are always welcome. The more the merrier.

Pacifica's Fifth Bass Derby Signups Start

Tickets for the Pacifica Jaycees Bass Derby are available now at the Pacifica Sports Center, 2130 Palmentto Avenue in the Sharp Park district.

The $1 registration fee makes anglers eligible for many prizes along with special trophies, to be awarded by the Jaycees when the Derby ends on August 31.

The Pacifica Sports Center has been established by the Jaycees as the Bass Derby official headquarters and weigh-in station. Fisherman should bring their daily catch to the Sports Center to be weighed and recorded.

This is the fifth Annual Bass Derby sponsored by the Pacifica Jaycees. Past vice president, Rich McLain, is the project chairman of this year's Derby. This is McLain's third year in that post.

The Bass Derby is conducted each year by the Jaycees to promote community development within Pacifica. Striped bass fishing is one of Pacifica's great natural resources. For this reason, the Jaycees take advantage of the opportunity to further the name of Pacifica among the neighboring communities. Striped bass fishing has won recognition for Pacifica on a local as well as a national basis.

Bass fever strikes the avid fisherman during July and continues into September each year. The popularity of fishing for stripers is evident from the enthusiasm with which the anglers swarm to the shores of Pacifica during the Bass run. The Bass season for sportsmen is further enhanced by the Jaycee sponsored Derby which provides prizes and trophies for the largest striped bass.

Prizes are awarded daily for the best catch include line, lures, hooks. Grand weekly first, second, and third place prizes will include items of fishing tackle, such as rods and reels as well as many other pieces of quality fishing gear. The top three overall winners will receive trophies with the number one angler's name and fish weight engraved on the Jaycee Bass Derby perpetual trophy.

Although registration tickets for the derby may be purchased now, only stripers caught from August 1 through August 31 will be eligible for prizes. Don't miss the opportunity to be eligible for the great prizes in this year's Jaycee Bass Derby.

Burglary Suspect Unhurt in Leap

A 21-year-old unemployed radio-television repairman, described by San Bruno police as a "hippie type," was arrested on a burglary charge early Friday after he jumped from a San Mateo Avenue building into the waiting arms of a police patrolman.

According to a San Bruno police spokesman, the suspect is Robin Oliver, address unknown. He is accused of burglarizing the Key Pharmacy on San Mateo Avenue, apparently taking only a box of suppositories, police said.

Oliver was seen shortly before 2 a.m. on the roof of a building adjacent to the drugstore and police were dispatched.

Patrolmen Jerry Goltz, Frank Young and Gary Kreuger responded to the burglary call.

Goltz positioned himself out of sight and was waiting for the suspect when he jumped from the roof.

Authorities said Oliver entered the building in which the pharmacy is located through a rooftop lightwell, lowering himself into a corridor on the second floor.

Going downstairs, Oliver assertedly chiseled his way through plasterboard of a restroom into the drugstore.

Raisins Can Be Great for Summer Cooking

Small in size but big in flavor, California raisins instantly spruce up and enliven entrees. This is particularly helpful in summer when the living is easy and the cook is looking for ideas appealing to hot weather appetites.

Taking a tip from the tropics, here is an excellent recipe for curry. This one is made with lamb, raisins and coconut. Not much effort goes into putting it together. And while it's cooking slowly to blend the flavors, you can be sunning yourself or relaxing in the shade with a cool drink. When it's mealtime all you need is a bit of rice to go with it and a tossed salad of crisp garden vegetables. The perfect go along for curry is, of course, a spicy raisin relish. Double the recipe so you'll have it on hand to serve with fried chicken, sliced ham or simple platters of cold cuts and cheese.

Looking to the Deep South, another area where they're experts at preparing foods for hot weather, you'll find creole dishes everywhere. This popular shrimp creole is done in no time in a skillet. Again raisins are in it and rice goes with it.

Now for a special tip on storing California raisins in warm weather. Buy only the amount you'll be using in a week or two and keep them in a cool place. For extended summer storage use your freezer or refrigerator.

RAISIN CURRIED LAMB

Add an extra teaspoon of curry powder if you like your curries hot. The Gingered Raisin Relish goes great with it.

1½ pounds boneless lean lamb
2 tablespoons shortening
½ cup chopped onion
2 teaspoons curry powder
1 teaspoon garlic salt
½ cup grated coconut
¼ cup milk
Water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 (14-ounce) can chicken broth
½ cup California seedless raisins

1 tablespoon cornstarch
Cut well trimmed lamb into small chunks. Brown in heated shortening. Add onion, curry powder and garlic salt; cook a few minutes longer. Meanwhile, combine coconut, milk and ½ cup water. Let stand 10 minutes. Drain liquid into lamb mixture, reserving coconut. Add lemon juice and broth. Cover and simmer 1½ to 2 hours until tender. Skim off excess fat. Add reserved coconut and raisins. Stir in cornstarch mixed with 2 tablespoons water. Cook, stirring, a few minutes longer until thickened. Serve with hot cooked rice and Gingered Raisin Relish. Makes 4 servings.

GINGERED RAISIN RELISH
A wonderful accompaniment for curry, fried chicken, cold cuts of meat and other summer favorites.

1 cup brown sugar (packed)
1-3 cup wine vinegar
2-3 cup pineapple juice
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon powdered ginger

1-8 teaspoon salt
1½ cups California seedless raisins
1-3 cup chopped candied or preserved ginger (optional)
Combine all ingredients except raisins and candied ginger. Heat to boiling, lower heat and simmer 5 minutes. Add raisins and candied ginger. Simmer 4 or 5 minutes longer. Remove from heat, cover and let stand 10 minutes before serving. Or cool and store in covered jar overnight. Makes about 1 pint.

CREOLE RAISIN RICE WITH SHRIMP
The beauty of this skillet entree is not only its appearance but its ease of preparation.
½ cup chopped green pepper
½ cup chopped onion
2 cloves garlic
2-3 cup California seedless raisins
1 tablespoon cooking oil
1 teaspoon seasoned salt
½ teaspoon seasoned pepper
¼ teaspoon rosemary
¼ teaspoon paprika
3 drops liquid red pepper seasoning
1 (1-pound) can tomatoes

2 tablespoons butter
½ pound large cooked shrimp, peeled and deveined
¼ cup chopped parsley
Cook green pepper, onion, 1 minced clove garlic and raisins in oil until vegetables soften. Add salt, pepper, rosemary, paprika, red pepper seasoning and tomatoes. Simmer 10 minutes. Combine with rice. Cover and keep warm over low heat. Melt butter with remaining whole clove garlic; add shrimp. Cook, stirring, 5 to 10 minutes. Discard garlic. Stir parsley into rice. Top with shrimp. Makes 4 servings.

Sour Cream And Zucchini

This is a fine fire winner in the vegetable department: Cook zucchini slices in salted water until barely tender. Drain. Top with dairy sour cream to which a touch of dill has been added a few minutes before serving time.

Last slices from the roast beef, pot-roast or pork roast can be placed in a shallow baking pan, then covered with barbecue sauce. Let heat through in a slow oven (325 degree F.), about 30 minutes. Serve on bun for an easy barbecue.

Breakfast Is a Meal For Family

Breakfast is the American family's meal. For many families, it's the only meal that finds them all together.

The children have lunch at school and father has his at work. In the evening, if the children are small enough, they may eat separately from the adults. If they're large enough, they may be in too much of a rush to get out on a date to sit down to dinner. Who knows, they may even be pressed for study time.

According to a recent survey, too, 17 per cent of the meals served for guests in American homes are breakfast. The same survey revealed that ten per cent of all natural cheese served in American homes is eaten at breakfast. Another survey, conducted by the Purity Cheese Co., Mayville, Wis., reveals that 16.5 per cent of American home-makers serve cheese for breakfast. Apparently the cheese-for-breakfast idea, long popular in Europe, is catching on in this country.

One way to serve an attractive breakfast — for just the family or to include guests — is the Continental Breakfast. It is served on trays which can be set up ahead of time and the food added at the last minute. It includes hot rolls, fruit, jelly, butter, cheese, and coffee.

The do-ahead part includes setting up each tray with napkin, salad fork, spoon, butter knife, salad plate, cup and saucer and a plate or individual basket for the rolls.

Half an hour before serving, take a package of cheese from the refrigerator and begin to warm the rolls. Breakfast cheese should be a mild, sweet type such as Gouda, Bel Paese, Port du Salut or Muenster. The roll could be either sweet or plain, straight from the bakery or the heat-and-eat type.

As guests or family arrive at the breakfast table, spoon jelly or jam into paper nut cups. Place a slice of Casaba melon, a small handful of grapes, a slice of Gouda, Bel Paese, Port du Salut or Muenster cheese, two patties of butter and the cup of jelly on the salad plate. Serve the rolls and coffee and breakfast is ready.

Thaw Helps Ice Cream

Here is a tip for scoopers and sticers of ice cream. Ice cream is easier to scoop or slice if removed from the freezer for a few minutes before serving. Allow about 20 minutes for half-gallon container and 10 minutes for pint for scooping; half this time for slicing.

Just a cup of ham bits and slivers left? Mix with a bit of finely minced chives and ok with six beaten eggs in the frying-pan. That's four to six servings for any meal.

A Winning Way With Potato Salad

Potato salad is always a winner. Next time you have a fairly large gang assembled, add Veranda Potato Salad to the menu line-up. It's guaranteed to please for it has all the usual elements of a good potato salad plus a few extras that turn it into a specially tasty dish. The big secret is a double treatment of dressing.

The first step is marinating the cubed cooked potatoes in a bottled oil and vinegar dressing. The dressing has a whisper of spices and other seasonings that permeate the potatoes before the other ingredients are added.

After this mixture has chilled well to fully capture the subtle flavors, you add celery and onion, without which no self-respecting potato salad is complete, plus sliced stuffed olives and chopped parsley. The vegetables are tossed then with a creamy, rich whipped salad dressing that adds its own special flavor tones of more than twenty spices — not too mild and not too strong — but just right to set off the potatoes and vegetable accents. Serving Veranda Potato Salad is a great way to win friends and influence people — into realizing what a really great cook you are, that is!

How to Get Shells Off

To make hard-cooked eggs easier to peel, boil the required length of time, then quickly with cold water and let stand a few minutes. The shells will come off smoothly and quickly.

VERANDA POTATO SALAD

1/4 cup oil and vinegar dressing
6 cups cubed cooked potatoes
1 cup sliced celery
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup sliced stuffed olives
1/4 cup chopped parsley
Salad dressing
Salt and pepper
Lettuce

Combine oil and vinegar dressing and potatoes; toss lightly. Chill. Add celery, onion, olives, parsley and enough salad dressing to moisten; toss lightly. Season to taste. Chill. Serve in a lettuce-lined bowl. Eight to ten servings.

Try Golden Melon For Good Salad

What a splendid new summer-time salad this is. Try it once and, we wager, you'll find yourself making it several times while cantaloupes are at their best.

Combine cubes of golden melon with prosciutto (or other ham) strips, ripe olive halves, red onion slices and western iceberg lettuce, torn into pieces, to make this exceptional salad. The dressing — Italian style of course — can come from a bottle or a package of dry mix.

Although the recipe calls for a tossed salad, for a fancy dinner you might use the same combination of ingredients for individual appetizer salads. Cut the melon into half-crescents or balls, roll ham slices into cornucopias, and arrange with the olives and onion rings on half-rafts (halves of crosscut slices) of western iceberg lettuce. Make the lettuce "iceberg-cold" by giving it and the salad plates a brief chilling in the freezer.

Serve the tossed version as an accompaniment to barbecued lamb, grilled pork chops or ro-tisseried chicken.

TOSSED SUMMER SALAD ITALIANO

1 head western iceberg lettuce
3 or 4 oz. thinly sliced Italian-style, Danish baked or boiled ham
1 1/2 to 2 cups cantaloupe cubes
1/2 cup pitted ripe olives, halved
2 tbsps. thinly sliced red onion
1/2 cup Italian Dressing (bottled or made from a dry mix)

Core, rinse and drain lettuce well; place in disposable plastic bag or plastic crisper; chill. Tear enough lettuce into bite-size pieces to make about 1 quart. Place in salad bowl. Refrigerate remaining lettuce for use another time. Cut ham into strips. Add ham, cantaloupe, olives and onion to salad bowl. Pour dressing over mixture. Toss lightly, coating well with dressing. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

Wear This Pendant In Salad Plate

Everybody's wearing pendants these days, men and women alike. Here's one for your salad plate:

"Pear Pendant Salad" combines slices of fresh California Bartlett pears and quartered tomatoes arranged sunburst fashion on lettuce-lined individual plates. In the center of each you scoop a frozen mixture that is a blend of tomatoes and mayonnaise seasoned with onion, salt and Tabasco.

This is exotic fare, but no more so than the costumes you'll see at any summer party. It's tasty and refreshing, so try it if you're in the mood for something new!

PEAR PENDANT SALAD

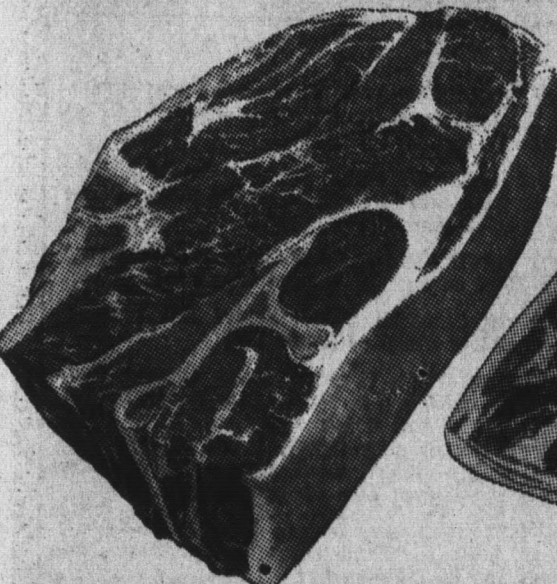

4 large tomatoes (about 1 1/2 to 2 lbs.)
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 or 2 slices onion
1/2 tsp salt
Dash Tabasco
3 fresh California Bartlett pears
Lettuce

Scall, peel, core and coarsely chop 2 tomatoes. Remove seeds. Whirl, half at a time, in blender with mayonnaise, onion, salt and Tabasco. (Or chop fine, press through sieve and mix with mayonnaise, onion, salt and Tabasco.) Pour into refrigerator tray; freeze about 30 minutes or until mixture is frozen about 1 inch around edge of tray. Beat to blend. Freeze thoroughly. Halve and core pears. Cut into thick slices. Arrange slices sunburst fashion on each of 6 lettuce-lined plates. Cut remaining tomatoes into wedges-tuck between pear slices. Spoon or scoop frozen mixture into center of each salad. Serve as soon as possible. Makes 6 servings.

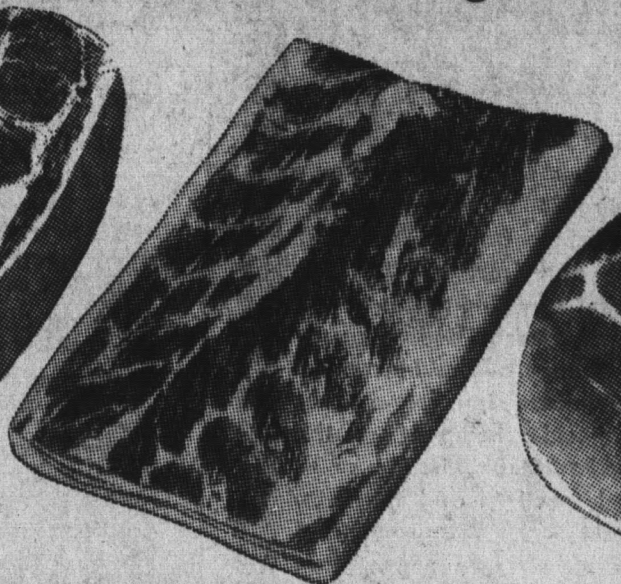

Herbs Flavor Goat Cheeses

Chevre (sheep) — are goat cheeses. They come from numerous regions abroad. The variety of local herbs, bushes, hedges, etc. give noticeably different tastes to each cheese. Exceptionally popular in the United States are: delicate and smoky Valencay (vay-leh-nay), St. Marcellin (vay-leh-nay), or chestnut leaves, Chabichou especially enjoyed for its sweet, delicate flavor. Dry white wines are excellent with goat cheeses.

Television Names Visit Rapps' Holiday Inn

COMEDIAN PAT PAULSON, star of the Smothers Brothers' summer television program, was a recent overnight guest at FRED AND JERRY RAPP'S HOLIDAY INN, South San Francisco. Pat traded a few quips with the Inn's food and beverage manager, CLAUDE SCHROEDER, then returned to Los Angeles for taping of his weekly show. . . . Among the fine specialties of the house served at San Francisco's IRON HORSE restaurant in Maiden Lane are Filet of Veal "Cordon Bleu" Medallions of Tenderloin, Garni, Shish Kabob with Rice Pilaf, and Filet of Dover Sole, Veronique. Dinners are served everyday, except Sunday. . . . STEVE ROMANO and his FABULOUS ROMANOS play for Friday and Saturday night dinner-dancing at Millbrae's plush BLUE PEACOCK. Known as "Mr. Music" around the Millbrae area, Steve, a Blue Peacock mainstay, has almost as many fans as the lounge's gregarious bar manager, LOU DAPELO.

Low Lehr's New Table Lamps Are Special

LEW LEHR is getting many compliments on the new table lamps especially designed for his steak house in San Francisco's Marina by McClory Creations. One of those complimenting LEW was JUAN MARICHAL, the Giants' pitching star and a frequent diner at Lehr's. . . . Prime Rib, Lobster Tail and New York Steaks are three "house specialties" at SEBASTIAN'S of Belmont. Various other Italian and Continental entrees are listed on the menu by owners MIKE KERNS and JERRY TEADERMAN, including fresh seafood. THE SEBASTIAN THREE play for late dinner-dancing on Saturday nights. . . . You're a sure-winner when you place and show at BELMONT CHUCK WAGON for luncheon or dinner. For luncheon, there's a wide selection of authentic Italian dishes, plus luscious salads and sandwiches. Dinner features four tempting entrees — broiled steaks, roast prime ribs, golden pan-fried chicken and the chef's special entree — priced at just $3.85 complete.

One thin dime is all you pay for a cup of coffee at the restaurants in HILLSDALE'S FARMERS MARKET which is obviously one good explanation for the huge crowds on hand in the mornings. . . . Wonder if VINCE LICATA, who has been hosting out-of-town relations these past few days, is planning to take them Tahoe-ward. He has more connections in Nevada than a plumber. . . . Hoax Search In D.C.

The hunt for four soldiers who broke out of the Presidio of San Francisco stockade Saturday afternoon centered in Daly City for a short time early Tuesday.

Daly City Police Lt. Phil LaBruzzi disclosed that two of his patrolmen and a sergeant checked out for military police at the Presidio an anonymous call placing three of the four escapees at 328 Oriente Street.

Following the 5:15 a.m. call from the Presidio, Daly City officers were assured by the woman resident of the home that there was no truth to the information.

The woman said she had been harassed by such phone calls recently, according to LaBruzzi.

Six soldiers had escaped from the stockade, but two of them had been recaptured shortly after the 10:30 p.m. Saturday break.

All of the escapees have out-of-state addresses.

Dr. Araki is conducting research within the field of Cell and Molecular Biology. His present study is designed to obtain information about the nature of substances within cells called "lysosomes" and to ascertain its occurrence and nature among marine animals.

He was among the thirteen S.F. State faculty members who received awards from the $15,000 NSF Grant. The Foundation said that these grants were awarded once a year and are intended to "assist colleges in the development of strong well-balanced programs of research and education in the sciences."

Dr. Araki, 36, a graduate of S.F. State, has been on the faculty since 1962. His doctorate was earned at Stanford University in 1962.

Sheldon Ruderman, assistant professor of social science and Daly City resident at 1 Skyline Drive, was also a winner in the National Science Foundation Institutional Grant.

Ruderman will be conducting research into the social roots of modern physics.

Ruderman was graduated from Brooklyn College.

Coastside Golf Range

The Peninsula will have its first Coastside driving range when the Pedro Point Golf Academy opens August 3 in Pacifica.

The new driving range and school, owned by Leo Giorgetti, Howard Verfall, and Bill Dougherty, is located just two and a half miles south of Sharp's Park near the Linda Mar Shopping Center.

The fully lighted driving range will be open seven days a week from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. and will offer golf lessons by two pros, Wayne Webster Jr., and Bill Dougherty, who, between them, have a record of 17 years of golf instruction both here and on the East Coast.

Playboy Bunnies will act as hostesses on two grand opening days, August 3 and 4. On those two days, hundreds of dollars worth of awards will be offered, including those for a hole-in-one contest.

A feature of the academy will be a fully equipped pro shop offering men's and women's sport clothes as well as all golfing equipment.

MINNESOTA PICNIC

Annual Minnesota picnic will be August 11 at San Bruno city park, free for all former residents of Minnesota now living in this area.
